

Taste of the Arts
Fort Wayne Indiana

VENDOR INFORMATION 2010

The Taste of the Arts festival is a celebration of inspiration designed to promote our wide variety of arts and culture organizations as well as local restaurants. Admission to the festival is free to encourage residents to come and learn about greater Fort Wayne’s diverse and interesting programs. Through sponsorships and food sales, this event serves as a fundraiser for emerging needs—this year we will supplement an arts education grant program for schools to cover field trip costs or artist-in-residencies.

This is a great opportunity for you to reach a new audience. As in past Taste of Fort Wayne events, this event will offer patrons everything from ice cream and pizza to upscale entrée samples and diverse ethnic favorites. Our 2009 event rekindled the excitement of past fine arts festivals and drew thousands to the heart of Fort Wayne. Nominated as one of the year’s best festivals after its debut, we are certain this will become an annual family tradition and you can be a part of the excitement!

There are two zones for food booths: the main festival grounds which operate from noon until 7 p.m. and a second food row, called “Dessert” after the main event ends, is open from noon until 10 p.m. Each area will have a beer/wine garden, these are determined on a “first come first served” basis. Arts United reserves the right to limit food types to ensure there is ample variety and less duplication in menu items.

To be included in as much publicity as possible for the event, this form, the vendor liability agreement and event deposit are due June 1. Final menu and certificate of insurance are due August 1.

You may mail to: Arts United, 114 E. Superior Street, Fort Wayne, IN 46802 or it may be faxed to Arts United at (260) 424-2783. For questions, please feel free to contact Tena Woenker, (260) 424-0646.
